

COLD, DRIVING RAIN FALLS ON DERBY CROWD

POWER STRIKE MARKED AGAIN BY DISORDERS

High Tension Towers Razed; Ultimatum Given Strikers

Springfield, Ill., May 4.—(AP)—Using dynamite and hacksaws vandals last night and early today wrecked two steel towers supporting high tension lines of the Illinois Light & Power Company, whose union employees are on strike.

The attempts to disrupt service, made near Danville and Springfield, were the first major acts of violence in the central Illinois utility strike in two weeks.

The first attempt was made near Hillery, two miles north of Danville, where hacksaws were employed to cut through two legs of a corner tower. The weight of the high voltage lines pulled the 50-foot structure to the ground. A saw blade was found at the scene.

Power Off 15 Seconds

Power was off only 15 seconds, the source of supply being switched immediately to the company's generating plant at Danville. A large repair crew worked through the morning and the damaged circuit was expected to be in operation today.

Three dynamite blasts damaged a 37-foot steel transmission tower near Springfield.

The explosions came on the heels of an order from the state commerce commission to force the end of a sympathy walkout of union employees of the Illinois Power & Light Company in southern Illinois.

There also vandals tampered with a power line early today and three towns, Venice, Madison and Granite City, were in darkness about an hour.

Report $500 Damages

The blasting of the steel tower, which carried a 140,000 volt power line from Peoria to Decatur, forced the temporary disconnection of the line while hasty repairs were being made. Damages were estimated at $500.

The commission's order to the company did not affect this area, where union employees have been on strike since April 3 to gain a "closed shop" contract. It directed the company to resume normal service to its southern Illinois customers.

In that area, where the company employs only union men, representatives today visited the strikers personally with an ultimatum to return to their jobs or be released.

Ultimatum Delivered

East St. Louis, May 4.—(AP)—The Illinois Power & Light Company, carrying out an order of the state commerce commission, today told its striking union employees in southern Illinois to return to their jobs or be released.

Representatives of the company personally visited strikers throughout the area to deliver the ultimatum, laid down yesterday by John H. Mitchell, chairman of the power company's southern Illinois group.

Mitchell acted after Chairman B. F. Lindheimer of the commission issued a strongly worded statement in which he "regretted" that Gov. Henry Horner's efforts to arrange an arbitration conference had failed.

Ordering the company to restore "reasonable" service in southern Illinois, Lindheimer pointed out that the strike, which began April 3, has produced a situation "so acute that immediate and effective measures must be taken in the interest of public welfare."

Thousands Distressed

The statement said that "thousands of citizens are distressed and their lives and property endangered with conditions as they are. Twenty-five thousand workers have been thrown out of employment through the shut-down of factories occasioned by lack of electric or gas service."

Mt. Vernon and Centralia, which have been without gas, and a number of towns in this area with inadequate electric current have been chiefly affected.

The order did not involve the central division, where the strikers are attempting to gain a "closed shop" contract and force the dissolution of the utility operators association, which they have charged is a "company union."

In southern Illinois, where the company has such a contract, the workers went out in sympathy with the central division walkout.

"Down With Sales Tax" Relief Clients Say

In Darkness

Hillsboro, Ill., May 4.—(AP)—Working in the darkness that came to Hillsboro when its street lights went out because of a utility strike, three burglars last night rifled a garage safe here, with a policeman and mechanic as unwilling but patient witnesses.

Disturbed by strange noises in the garage, James Wallis, the mechanic, summoned Tom Reckard, the policeman. As the two entered the garage they were greeted by one of the bandits who disarmed the officer and gave them chairs before the safe. There they looked on while the three burglars opened the safe and removed $25.

The street lighting system was damaged during a storm recently and cannot be repaired because linesmen are on strike.

LEADERS IN U. S. SENATE REALLY OPPOSED TO NRA

So Ex-Director of Litigation is Going to Tell Roosevelt

Washington, May 4.—(AP)—While supreme court justices considered the pros and cons of NRA's constitutionality, a cry was heard from the blue eagle camp today that Roosevelt administration leaders in the senate are really opposed to NRA.

The assertion that Majority Leader Robinson (D-Ark.) and Chairman Harrison (D-Miss.) of the senate finance committee are "internally" against the recovery law came from A. G. McKnight, who is retiring as director of litigation for NRA.

His comment resulted from the finance committee's approval of a plan to extend the law only until next spring, with all intra-state business removed from its field of operations.

Administration officials want a two-year extension, with the law applying to business in or affecting interstate commerce.

"The vote of the finance committee against the Barkley proposal to permit codes for intra-state business indicates that congress is going to renege," said McKnight, a gray-haired man from Minnesota.

He's going to tell "Pat Harrison and Joe Robinson internally are not for the NRA. Unless provisions along the line of the Barkley motion are retained in the NRA the whole thing will be emasculated. I have resigned but before I go home I am going to see President Roosevelt and tell him."

Another of Alleged Bremer Kidnapers is Apprehended in Dixie

Washington, May 4.—(AP)—The Justice Department today announced the arrest last night at Pass Christian, Miss., of Harry Sawyer, wanted as one of the kidnapers of Edward G. Bremer of St. Paul, Minn., in January, 1934.

He was taken in custody by Justice Department agents in the Mississippi city and removed immediately to New Orleans, where it was said he would be arraigned today before a United States Commissioner.

New Equipment at Dixon Theater Reproduces Pictures Exactly as They Were When Photographed

The Dixon Theater has completed the installation of the most up-to-date type of projection room equipment, which make the room comparable to that of any theater in any city in the world, regardless of location or size. The power for illuminating the pictures on the screen is now being produced through the medium of the new copper oxide type of rectifying just perfected, after several years of research, by the General Electric engineers.

These rectifiers do not use tungsten bulbs, as did the old types, and give a very steady stream of light regardless of any fluctuations of the incoming current. Supply-

PICKET HEAD-QUARTERS IN SPRINGFIELD

More County Stations Closed; No Disorders Reported

Springfield, Ill., May 4.—(AP)—Relief stations in Springfield were being picketed today by a group claiming to belong to the Illinois Workers Alliance.

Carrying banners proclaiming "Relief Stations Must Not Be Closed" and "Down With the Sales Tax," the pickets congregated about the relief stations, which are still open in Sangamon county.

No disorders were reported. Later the pickets moved on to the city hall after announcing they would go to the State House and the governor's mansion. The group was small.

The Illinois Workers' Alliance, an organization of the unemployed, recently sent delegates to the Assembly to protest the proposed increase in the sales tax and ask that an income tax be substituted.

500,000 SEEK RELIEF

Chicago, May 4.—(AP)—The army of the hungry thrown on Illinois communities until the legislature makes terms with Washington relief officials was expected to include 500,000 relief clients.

The total grew as more counties exhausted funds in the regular relief treasury. But the crisis was a different one in almost every county; and in some, in fact, the relief clients were assured of at least another week of care.

In others the crisis developed almost to famine, and was met by eleventh-hour or twelfth-hour financing. In LaSalle county, where roughly 14,400 individuals lived on relief orders, all money ran out May 1.

Some of the 3,600 families had grocery orders issued before that; others had a few dollars from their work relief checks. Others had been cut off the usual care since April 23, and had lived on orders for $1 issued with the last of the money.

Many Have Nothing. Friday many families in the county had nothing; on their usual grocery orders—$3.75 a week for a family of three—they had not been able to put anything on their shelves.

Charity plus what "richer" relief clients would lend, saved the day. A milk dealer donated milk, a private charity distributed flour, and a store gave away bread. Later in the day the county board voted $10,000 a week to furnish emergency rations until the legislature and the Washington officials can agree.

The Illinois Emergency Relief Commission decided to recheck its enormous list of clients in an effort to cut the total by striking the entire roll and ordering each to apply for reinstatement.

Commissioners expressed the belief that a new examination of the applicants would reduce the total 10 per cent by eliminating the undeserving, although it was assumed that some new worthy cases would be uncovered.

Supervisors Active. The township supervisors were the rescue forces in some principal Illinois cities. In Peoria, the

Peace Reigns

Kankakee, Ill., May 4.—(AP)—All was peaceful in the Kankakee fire department this afternoon after several days of uproar. Until this morning the fire fighters had double their normal personnel since Wednesday, when a Republican administration replaced Democrats as a result of the recent city election.

When an alarm sounded Republican and Democratic fire eaters climbed aboard the city's apparatus and roared off to the scene.

But all the fuss was ended this morning.

The new fire and police commission, two-thirds Republican, by appointment of the new Republican mayor, Roy D. Taylor, gave notice of dismissal to the Democratic firemen, who, under two year appointments by former Mayor Dodge Rex, in 1933, refused to leave the central and west side stations in favor of their successors.

HIGHER WAGES MAY BE RULED PUBLIC WORKER

Washington, May 4.—(AP)—As President Roosevelt called for a list of projects to be submitted next week for consideration in the work relief program, authoritative sources said today that officials were studying the advisability of paying wages higher than the $50-a-month average previously mentioned.

Rising food prices were said to be behind this move. They have increased 11 per cent in the past six months, according to official statistics.

Officials declined to be quoted by name but acknowledged that a survey of living costs in 59 cities, selected in an attempt to present a cross-section of the nation's municipalities, is now under way. The idea is to check these figures against regional scales prepared for the works allotment board.

Harrison Compromise Plan Fails to Recruit Support

Washington, May 4.—(AP)—Congress appeared today to be heading straight into a presidential veto on the soldiers' bonus. Administration leaders conceded they virtually had lost their fight for a compromise acceptable to President Roosevelt. They were frankly dismayed by the senate's evident determination to pass either the Vinson or Patman bills, providing for full and immediate cash payment.

Senate defeat of the compromise proposal for which Senator Harrison (D-Miss.) has claimed White House approval was believed to have been averted yesterday only by a sudden adjournment over the week end. The recess was suggested by Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, when confident cash bonus forces lined up behind him.

Strength Unimpaired. The compromise plan failed to muster impressive strength even after Harrison had agreed to an amendment by Senator Connally (D-Texas) which would add $90,000,000 to its cost. It was estimated that this amendment, cutting interest charged veterans on bonus loans from 4 to 2 per cent, would make the bill require a total outlay of $1,209,000,000.

The Veterans' Administration has estimated that the Patman bill, proposing to pay the bonus in full with new currency, would require $2,201,934,000. Officials have figured that the Vinson measure, leaving the method of payment unspecified, would involve an appropriation of $2,263,345,000.

Cause Almost Hopeless. Roosevelt forces worked today to re-form the broken senate line but leaders admitted privately that their cause was almost hopeless. Harrison warned yesterday that his compromise was the only one of the three proposals that could receive presidential approval.

He was asked by Senator Borah (R-Idaho) if he had any assurance Roosevelt would sign the compromise.

"I haven't the slightest doubt in the world," he replied.

As amended by Senator Connally, the compromise bill would give about $220, instead of $180, to the average veteran who has a $1,000 bonus certificate against which he already has borrowed $500. A veteran who has a $1,000 certificate and hasn't borrowed anything against it could obtain $770. Or he could hold his certificate until 1945 and get $1,115.

Under the Patman or Vinson bills, it is estimated, the average veteran would get a net cash payment of about $500.

Merriment of Jubilee Crowds in London Unparalleled Since the Armistice Celebration of 1918

London, May 4.—(AP)—Jubilee visitors stormed London today and captured the city's streets with a barrage of merriment unparalleled since the signing of the Armistice.

The old metropolis, beflagged to celebrate the 25th anniversary of King George's accession to the throne Monday, was a scene between a Latin-American festival and a North American harvest festival.

Visitors from all parts of the globe—500,000 were estimated to be here already—choked the city.

First Arrests

Kansas City, May 4.—(AP)—Send-a-dime chain letters flooded postoffices in many of the larger cities in the western half of the nation today while at San Antonio, Tex., postal inspectors prepared to follow up the first arrests made as a result of the craze.

Thad Altor, a bookkeeper, and Felix Garcia, drug clerk, were arrested and charged with violation of the postal laws. Inspectors said they had found several hundred of the chain letters all bearing the same names. They indicated warrants had been issued against three or four others, including one who is claimed, acted as the "brains" of an alleged scheme to make a big profit from the chain.

BUTCHER BOY'S WEALTH DREAM HAS CRUMBED

Bridgeport, Conn. $10-a-Week Youth Admits Ambitious Plots

New York, May 4.—(AP)—A $10-a-week butcher boy's dream of wealth through an extortion scheme involving 150 prominent men and women crumbled today after his arrest in Bridgeport, Conn.

The youth is Peter Zimindak, 22-year-old son of a Bridgeport, factory worker. Department of Justice agents here announced he had admitted sending threatening letters to five persons, with the intention of sending similar threats to many others.

In his home was found a card-index system listing the names of 150 prominent persons and estimates of their wealth. The list included David Sarnoff, Irving Berlin, William Fox and Judge Irving Lehman of the Court of Appeals.

Zimindak was arrested yesterday after Federal agents had compared his handwriting with that contained in the threatening letters. They said it was the same. He was held under $15,000 bail for appearance in Federal court in Bridgeport Monday.

Kidnaping Threats. Rhea Whitley, head of the Justice Department's investigating bureau here, said the first letter was sent to Lewis L. Strauss, partner in Kuhn, Loeb & Co., last December. It demanded $7,500 under threat of the possible kidnaping of some member of Strauss's family.

Other letters were received by Carl M. Loeb, former Kuhn, Loeb partner, demanding $7,000; Miss Annie Burr Jennings of New York and Fairfield, Conn., daughter of the late Oliver Burr Jennings, one of the founders of Standard Oil, $12,500; Mrs. Henry W. Parnam, New Haven, $10,000, and Charles Shipman Payson, son-in-law of the late Harry Payne Whitney, no amount announced.

NELLIE FLAG'S CHANCE BOOST-ED AS RESULT

Only Filly in Classic Considered Superior as Mudder

By ALAN GOULD

Associated Press Sports Editor Louisville, Ky., May 4.—(AP)—A sudden cold wave, accompanied by a steady, driving rain turned the setting for the sixty-first Kentucky Derby today into a drab, dripping and cheerless spectacle.

The track, which had dried out thoroughly by last night, again threatened to become a mess of sloppy mud, although critical observers, before noon, insisted it had a chance to be "fast" if there was a letup in the rain. There was no immediate letup in sight.

The temperature, which began a precipitate drop during the evening, was at 40 degrees, close enough to freezing weather to feel like it and sharply uncomfortable to the shivering few thousands who gathered about historic Churchill Downs in the early hours.

Worst in Six Years

The worst Derby weather in six years struck a blow at estimates of a record turnout. Estimates were quickly pared down to 50,000 but it appeared the vast majority were prepared to defy the elements and brave the risks involved.

Two early scratches reduced to 20 the field of thoroughbreds slated to run through the mire at about 4:45 (Central Standard) for three-year-old honors and the majors share of around $34,000 in stake money.

Two Withdrawn

J. C. Flanagan's Chanceview and J. S. Riley's Color Bearer, two 50 to 1 shots, were withdrawn because of the weather and track conditions, with the prospect that others would be reduced to 16 or 17 three-year-olds.

Meanwhile, the crack Calumet filly, Nellie Flag, assumed the role of favorite, displacing C. V. Whitney's colt. Today, which developed a slight bruise on one heel in its final workout.

Superior Mud-Runner

Nellie Flag, considered a superior mud-runner, already had won the backing of a majority of experts, despite the prejudice against her sex in the Derby, and appeared to have the best chance to be the leading lady since Regret led the field home in 1915.

William Woodward's Omaha, Colonel E. R. Bradley's Boxthorn and Mrs. Walter M. Jeffords' gelding, Commonwealth, were rated the principal rivals of Nellie Flag. Boxthorn's ability to run well in the mud was somewhat doubtful but the conditions enhanced the outlook for Commonwealth.

supervisors took over the care of 500 unemployed, who must sign affidavits that they are paupers to obtain it. Regular relief funds will be spent for milk and emergency rations of food, and to stretch them until May 12.

Of Cook county's 620,000 relief clients, one in 25 has a "fresh" grocery order, issued just before regular relief funds ran out. The other 24 can obtain orders good for a week's food. "Cooking coal"—but not "heating coal"—is available in quarter-ton amounts.

Staffs Donate Work.

In some downstate cities regular relief funds were expected to last until May 12. Private charities prepared to step in in some localities, but have scanty funds in others.

Medical care in some counties went on as usual, with reserve funds available. In others, doctors served without pay. In still others, among them LaSalle, the emergency funds provided do not include medical care.

The relief staff in every county has continued to work, although without pay.

Dismissed Attorney
Sues Mrs. Hauptmann

Brooklyn, May 4—(AP)—Edward J. Reilly, ousted as chief of Bruno Richard Hauptmann's defense counsel, has sued Mrs. Anna Hauptmann, wife of the convicted slayer of the Lindbergh baby, for $22,388.82, which he claims as fee, it was revealed today.

The suit was brought to light when Supreme Court Justice Mitchell May granted an order to Maurice Edelbaum, a legal associate of Reilly, directing Mrs. Hauptmann to show cause in the Brooklyn supreme court, May 10, why she should not be enjoined from disposing of funds now in her possession.

The order also directs her to show cause why the funds should not be impressed in trust so that Reilly might collect for his services and expenses.

Mrs. Hauptmann dismissed Reilly as chief counsel on April 3 after he had sent her a bill for $25,000.

SEEK ALLEGED ABDUCTORS OF
TWO COMMUNISTSNew Mexican Officials
Without Clues in Mystery Kidnaping

Gallup, N. M., May 4—(AP)—State and county officers followed meager clues over the deserts of western New Mexico today, seeking a dozen or more men alleged to have abducted and beaten Robert Minor, editor of a New York Communist publication, and David Levinson, Philadelphia lawyer for the International Labor Defense.

The two victims, members of a defense committee formed to aid a group of men charged with mass murder as an outgrowth of the jobs riot of last month, were in a hospital under the protection of state police. Independent of the police move, the Gallup defense committee also provided a guard for the two men.

Both were bloody and scarcely able to walk when found by an Indian in the desert yesterday morning, but physicians said their injuries were not serious. The defense committee, expressing dissatisfaction with examination of the two by hospital physicians, proceeded with plans to have other doctors examine them.

Saw About Dozen Men.

Although he said he saw only about a dozen men when he and Levinson were seized from their parked automobile in the town of Plaza Thursday night, Minor insisted that many others must have been involved in the purported abduction. He said he had screamed loud enough to have been heard a distance of several blocks when he was pulled from the car and loaded into one of the masked men's autos.

Clues furnished C. R. McIntosh, Assistant State's Attorney, who came from Santa Fe to assume charge of investigation, and Sheriff D. W. Roberts by the two bruised victims of the strange attack were not definite enough to arouse hopes of the officers for an early solution of the case.

McIntosh said the state would "leave no stone unturned" to solve the case and that "no matter where the guilt lies, high or low, prosecution will result in any arrests we make."

Vatican and Japan
Soon Establish Diplomatic Relations

Vatican City, May 4—(AP)—For the first time in history the Holy See and Japan are to enter mutual diplomatic relations, prelates reported today.

They said the establishment of a nuncio in Tokyo to replace the present apostolic delegate and the establishment of a Japanese embassy or legation in the Holy See is imminent.

In high Vatican circles it was said the understanding between the Land of the Rising Sun, with its mystic oriental religion, and this center of the Roman Catholic world, followed lengthy negotiations between them.

"A Million Souls for Christ" was given by Mrs. J. Leach. "Japanese Women Clean House" was read by Mrs. F. C. Sproul. A playlet was dramatized by Mrs. Kindig and Mrs. Glen Flanigan, Sylvania San and her granddaughter. They talked of work among the Japanese—of the co-operative hospital, the community Christmas and the breakdown of prejudice and suspicion. Also the possibility of a great united church in Japan and that these may open new avenues of service and devotion for the Japanese Christians.

Mrs. Anna Mumma and Mrs. Bolinger, wife of the Christian church minister in Mt. Morris—were guests of the society and Mrs. Bolinger gave a helpful talk. After this most interesting program all repeated the benediction and a social hour followed and the serving of refreshments by Mrs. Fellows and Mrs. Hall.

Hear of Hickory
Hill Camp Meeting
This Afternoon

This afternoon at the Christian church, a Girl Scout camp meeting was held. Girl Scouts and their mothers and friends gathered to learn more about Hickory Hill Camp at Edgerton, Wisconsin. This is the camp where some Dixon Girl Scouts enjoy camp life for a week or two every summer. The camp is under the direction of the Des Plaines, Ill., council and scout director. It is hoped that more girls from Dixon may be able to attend camp this year, and Hickory Hill is an ideal spot for outdoor living. Girls who have already attended camp there, return to describe it in glowing terms.

This afternoon, actual movies of Hickory Hill were shown by Geo. Shaw. Mrs. John G. Ralston gave a splendid talk on "Camping and Its Benefits" and Dorothy Dodd talked about her actual experiences as a counselor at Hickory Hill camp. Both talks were most interesting and very well received. Folders about Hickory Hill were handed out and discussed, and questions answered by Miss Dodd. An announcement was made concerning a Day Camp for Dixon Girl Scouts which will be held at Reynoldswood, June 11, 12 and 13.

War Mothers' Plans
For Carnation Day
Completed Friday

The Lee County Chapter of American War Mothers held their regular meeting Friday afternoon in the G. A. R. hall with a very good attendance. The usual order of business was followed by complete reports from the state convention held in Aurora.

Lucy R. Eastman gave the report in detail of the order of business and mentioned especially the memorial services. Eliza Brand, president of the local chapter, spoke of the change in the by-laws and her enjoyment of her first attendance at the state convention. Clea W. Bunnell, newly elected State President, thanked the president and the delegates for their loyal support also how she appreciated the fitting remarks Mrs. Brand used in presenting her gift to her. The president also presented Mrs. Eastman with a corsage of carnations, and told each one the appreciation of their work in the local chapter.

May 11th will be Carnation Day and the Boy Scouts of America will assist the Dixon War Mothers in this sale. The boys will not appear in their regular uniforms, as this is against the Scout ruling, but the public will be assured of the same courtesy that is characteristic of this group of boys. The boys are allowed 10 per cent of their sales, and it is hoped the public will not give any thing less than 10 cents in the red, white and blue box the boys will carry. These flowers are made by disabled ex-service men and the Scouts are anxious to make as much as they can to help them in their summer vacation.

The chapter still has a few Mother Day envelopes to dispose of and any one wishing one to send Mother a letter, call, phone 188, and they will be delivered. How nice it would be to remember some Mother that is not fortunate enough to have a living child, to send her a message.

"This is my gift to you," said the Angel of Life. "It is the Crown of Motherhood, which will recom-

POET'S CORNER

While the public ear is open, let it listen to this song:
We're getting along—we're getting along!

We're getting along—we're getting along!
We're getting along—we're getting along!

Loud rattles the train as it darts away.
Loud answers the steamboat across the bay.

Loud rustles the ship built for steamer time.
While the factory looms and bells keep chime.

We're getting along—we're getting along!
We're getting along—we're getting along!

So the telegraph wires vibrate in the breeze,
Harping a tune to the song of the trees.

And the rushing river is singing it still
With the heaving, clattering, water-mill!

We're getting along—we're getting along!
We're getting along—we're getting along!

So the steam-press sings, as from it are whirled
The flying leaves to a reading-world.

And the leaves as they flutter o'er sea and land
Still sing as they flit from the hand to hand.

We're getting along—we're getting along!
We're getting along—we're getting along!

All over the green world broad and wide,
By the foaming river or mountain side.

Where in word or in deed a thought hath been,
Or a spirit immortal from God is seen;

And while word and spirit their life prolong
We hear the wondrous and endless song:

We're getting along—we're getting along!
We're getting along—we're getting along!

The smile of sunset warms this lovely land,
The fragrant breeze of evening whispers (low) prosperity is at hand!

EVERYDAY LIVING

INTOLERANCE—

By Joseph Fort Newton

"Y ES, the new intolerance is bad," agrees a reader, "but with all our new inventions we have not beat the old fellows yet. Just recall these words of Cotton Mather to his friend John Higginson:

"There is now at sea a ship called Welcome which has aboard a hundred or more of the heretics and malignants called Quakers with William Penn (the scamp) at the head of them."

"The General Court has accordingly given secret orders to master Malachi Hazett of the brig Porpoise to waylay said Welcome as near the end of Cod as may be and take Captain Penn and his ungodly crew, so that the Lord may be glorified and not mocked, by the soil of this new country, with the heathen worship of these people."

"Much spoil may be made by selling the whole lot to Barbadoes, where slaves fetch prices in rum and sugar and we shall not only do the Lord great service by punishing the wicked, but shall make good gain for his ministers and people."

"At any rate, he was frank about it. Even his pious words did not hide the hideous and brutal bigotry of his spirit. To sell people into slavery for a difference of religious faith!"

"In our day we leave off the pious part of it, perhaps because we do not pretend to feel it. Besides, our interest has shifted from theology to other things more tangible and more terrible."

My reader is right. The hot-spot is no longer religious, about which we are lukewarm, but differences about economic dogmas and the new ideas of the nature and function of the state in our day.

But the spirit is the same—the desire to dominate, drive, and coerce people into our way of thinking, and knocking them on the head if they do not agree with us. It is the same old terror.

If signs mean anything, we are in for a bad time with this bad light in the days ahead, even in our own country. Once again we must learn to live and let live, to think and let think.

Miss Clara Stager, Niece of Dr. and Mrs. Z. W. Moss, is Bride of Sterling Wedding

Dixonites Guests at Her Marriage to J. K. B. Hockaday

The wedding of Miss Clara Stager of Sterling and J. K. Burnham Hockaday of Kansas City, Mo., this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in Grace Episcopal church, is the culmination of a series of pre-nuptial affairs that have ushered in the spring social season there, in a delightful manner.

The marriage vows were accepted by the Rev. Harry P. Hilbish, rector of Grace church in the presence of a number of relatives and friends including many guests from other cities.

It was the first wedding in Grace church since the edifice was reopened for services Easter week after having been closed for some time to make alterations and for redecorating during which time services were held in the chapel, thus resuming the nuptial functions of this beautiful old church which has been the scene of so many happy marriages down through the years to the long ago.

By reason of features of the ceremony of unusual beauty, it will live long in the memory of those present as one of the prettiest weddings in recent Sterling history.

Awaiting the entrance of the bridal party, Mrs. Ralph Bransby of Adrian, Mich., the former Nova Morehouse and girlhood friend of the bride, played organ numbers among which the familiar strains of Liebestraum by Liszt were especially appropriate. A mixed quartet, Mrs. Foster E. Pike, Mrs. Roscoe Eades, Foster E. Pike and John Ferguson Ward, singing The Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin, preceded the bride and her attendants, who were as follows:

Mrs. Irvine O. Hockaday 3rd of Kansas City and Mrs. Robert H. Burdall of Chicago, matrons of honor; Miss Mary Stager, sister of the bride, the maid of honor; Mrs. William Mazey of Columbus, Ohio, Miss Blanche Dean of New York City and Mrs. John Goddard 2nd of Lancaster, Pa., the bridesmaids. Little Miss Joanne Stager, sister of the bride, as a junior bridesmaid was petite and winsome.

The best man was Irvine O. Hockaday 3rd of Kansas City and Rollins M. Hockaday Jr. of Kansas City, also a brother of the groom, was one of the ushers, the others being Morton T. Jones and Edward Keith of Kansas City, Mo., R. B. Price of Columbia, Mo., Robert H. Burdall and Charles H. Cecil of Chicago, Samuel Conly of Port Chester, N. Y. and Harry Hunter Wood.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was charming in her wedding gown of ivory tulle with long court train, ivory tulle veil and coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a nosegay bouquet of lilies of the valley and bride's roses.

The matrons of honor, maid of honor and bridesmaids wore white organdie and large picture hats with pink velvet ribbons and long streamers and carried pink baskets of apple blossoms and lilies. The junior bridesmaid wore a long pink organdie frock and coronet of pink forget-me-nots.

Against a background of apple blossoms, lilies and wild plum which screened the chancel rail, the side walls and the sanctuary walls on either side of the altar, the assembled wedding party presented a picture of exquisite loveliness. At the conclusion of the ceremony the Mendelssohn wedding march was played for the recessional.

Following the marriage a reception was held at Larchwood, the home of the bride's parents on West Third street, Sterling. Decorations of white lilacs, bridal wreath and cherry blossoms enhanced the attractiveness of the beautiful home. The groom's mother and the parents of the bride assisted the wedding party in receiving the guests.

Mrs. Hockaday is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Stager and one of the most popular members of the younger social set in this community. Upon completing her course at Sterling township high school she studied music and dramatics for four years in New York City.

A descendant of generations of leaders in community affairs in both Dixon and Sterling, she has added to the attributes that are hers by inheritance a personality of delightful quality and has enhanced her natural talents by conscientious study. Her charming presence on the many occasions upon which she has delighted her friends and the public at large by participation in programs for private enjoyment and community benefits has endeared her not only to her close associates but to the public at large. With her sister, Miss Mary Stager, she has graciously responded to the many calls made upon her for her musical services and she will be missed as few of the young ladies have been who have left Sterling and Dixon for homes in other places. She takes with her the best wishes of everybody. She is the niece of Dr. and Mrs. Z. W. Moss of this city.

Mr. Hockaday is a son of Mrs. Rollins Mills Hockaday of Kansas City, Mo. After fitting for college at Hill school he completed his academic education at Princeton university. He is at present a valued member of the sales organization Russell, Burdall & Ward Co. with headquarters in St. Louis, Co. Having been associated with the local plant of the company he made many friends in this city who will extend to him their heartiest congratulations.

The bride and groom leave this evening for New York City from where they will make a brief voyage to Bermuda, after which they will make their home in St. Louis.

GREAT MOTHERS

Nancy Hanks Lincoln

A LITTLE girl, reared in poverty in the backwoods of Virginia, destined for a brief and none too happy life, was to grow up and bear a child whose career more than fulfilled all her highest dreams for him.

Born at Patterson's Creek, Virginia, in 1784, Nancy Hanks went at the age of twelve to live with her aunt and uncle, Thomas and Elizabeth Sparrow, in Mercer County, Virginia. She had a chance to attend school there, and made the most of it. In a community where many of the men could neither read nor write, she learned to do both.

She was skilled at needlework, too, and hired out to families in the neighborhood. Though she worked for wages she was never regarded as a servant, but sat at table with the household wherever she went. Report says that she was tall and handsome, with a frank open countenance and a voice pleasing both when she sang and when she talked.

A young apprentice named Thomas Lincoln was learning the trade of carpentry in the shop of Joseph Hanks, uncle of Nancy. The two young people were attracted to each other, and were married on June 12, 1806. Thomas took his bride home to a small farm on a level square.

He could not write his own name until the ambitious Nancy taught him how. But his ambition could not keep pace with hers. Her disappointment in this easy-going ways was forgotten in her children's first, a little girl, Sarah, then, in 1809, the son, Abraham, and then, in 1812, the son, known to history as Abraham Lincoln.

Between this child and this backwoods mother there was a powerful bond of sympathy. They understood each other without words. Perhaps she felt in him her own fierce hunger for learning, for a larger, richer world.

Abraham's mind, who little I have, seem to run together," she is reported to have said once.

She was thirty-four years old, and Abraham Lincoln was nine, when she fell ill of an epidemic disease known in Southern Indiana (to which the family had migrated) as the milk sickness. In seven days, she was dead.

Abraham helped his father to make her coffin out of green lumber cut with a whipsaw, helped to bury her in a forest clearing. There was no ceremony.

Pre-Nuptial Events Honor Principals of Sterling Wedding

Last evening in Sterling Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dillon entertained at a buffet supper at their home, 1005 E. Third street, the entire wedding party and out of town guests of the Stager-Hockaday wedding today.

This supper preceded a dance at the Sterling Club for three hundred guests, given by Miss Mary Stager in honor of her sister, Miss Clara, and the latter's fiancé, J.

LET'S TEST OURSELVES

An intelligence test to determine the fitness of state and national legislators is proposed in the current issue of The Zion Herald, Methodist weekly.

It's a sound idea, as far as it goes; but why not go farther and have a similar test for us voters as well? For when all is said and done, these legislators—and some of them are pretty sad-looking specimens—were elected by us.

We looked them over, listened to what they had to say, and gave them their jobs.

Strange, when you stop to think about it: we are almost unanimous in berating the stupidity and the chicanery of congress and legislature—but we never stop to think that congressmen and legislators are direct reflections of ourselves.

We put them where they are; if we're so smart, why don't we put better men in their places?

SNOBBISH AMATEURS

Dr. Francis D. Tyson of the University of Pittsburgh tells the convention of the American Physical Education Association that amateurism in sports is a piece of snobbery out of place in a democracy.

Amateurism, he says, is a hangover from the British aristocratic tradition. When we try to make a fetish of it we simply get confused.

There is a lot of good sense in Dr. Tyson's remark. At bottom, the only reason for making a distinction between the pro and the amateur is that one makes his living by a sport while the other indulges in it in his spare time, just for fun; hence it is hardly fair to contrast their abilities, since the pro is bound to be more skillful.

It doesn't really go any farther than that. The idea that a man somehow lowers himself by taking money for athletic activities is absurd. As Dr. Tyson says, it is a notion which has no place in a democracy.

SANE THOUGHT NECESSARY

The Senate seems to be persuaded that it is necessary to do something for the tenant farmer; but it seems also to be persuaded that it is essential to proceed with a great deal of care, lest the remedy involve the nation in greater difficulties than the disease itself.

Thus the bill which would have Uncle Sam loan $1,000,000,000 to relieve dependent farm tenants is referred back to committee after nearly two weeks of debate. The committee is instructed to report not later than May 12.

That the helpless destitution of a large percentage of tenant farmers and "share-croppers" constitutes a national crisis is undeniable. But it is equally clear that hasty and ill-considered action to relieve it would be as bad as no action at all.

It is noteworthy that it was Senator Borah, himself a proponent of aid for tenant farmers, who moved to recommit the bill. Out of this move should come a sounder and saner relief plan.

BETTER YEAR AHEAD

Among the harbingers for a prosperous summer is the fact that unless all present indications fail we are not going to have a repetition of last year's disastrous drouth.

To be sure, the Kansas-Colorado sector, still plagued by dust storms, is suffering intensely from lack of moisture. But taking the farm belt as a whole, it seems clear that we are safe from another dry spell like that which caused so much misery last year.

As an example, consider the state of South Dakota. Last year South Dakota was one of the hardest-hit of the drouth states. A magazine writer even suggested that most of the state ought to be evacuated—and thereby got himself in very bad with South Dakotans.

But now the governor of the state has named a thanksgiving day to celebrate the abundance of moisture that has fallen this spring. That part of the wheat belt, obviously, is due for a good year.

A TRADITION IS REVIVED

One of the entertaining things about this country is that every so often it can forget all about its weighty problems and concentrate on some question like the one which is currently pressing on our attention, to wit: Did Mae West get married 'way back in 1911 and if so to whom?

Somebody produced a rumor, first of all; then someone else produced a marriage license, and finally the bridegroom himself popped up, or claimed to. And Mae is issuing flat denials of everything, which makes it possible for all of us to take sides.

All this is a return to the old tradition, and it is somehow refreshing. Actresses are supposed to be ladies about whom rumors and legends cluster. It may be tough on Miss West to have the whole country arguing about faraway details of her private life, but there is ample and time-stained precedent for it.

Too much stress is laid on punishment, too little upon understanding the criminal. Swift and certain punishment is needed, but not brutality. And mere punishment without prevention is futile.—August Vollmer, expert in crime detection and prevention.

The one thing necessary is to keep your sense of humor and always see the funny side of life, the funny side of people.—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

We women seek to raise the moral standing of mankind and teach our children to live, not die for their country.—Lady Astor.

All of the Tinies worked away. They heard the pirate gruffly say, "Keep right on going with that task the sun is sinking low."

"It will spoil the fun of this fine lark, if I must stand here after dark, and wait for you to finish, because to bed I want to go."

Then Scouty snapped "We are trying to do the very best we can for you. We will have this shelter finished in about a minute more."

"Now, tell us, if you do not mind, just where you think we're going to find a place to rest our weary heads. Of sticks we have no more."

"We have used them all in your shelter and you must admit that it looks grand." The pirate laughed and cried, "Say, son, why should I fret about you?"

"While I am sleeping nice and sound, you Tiniest can search around and find a place to slumber. What do I care what you do?"

And then he eyed the shelter. "Well," said he, "it is really not so well, but it will do. Here's where I snooze, and get much needed rest."

"I'll see you all a break of dawn. Remember! You must not be gone! You'll stick right here till I awake, if you know what is best."

When he began to snore, the bunch heard Scouty say, "I have a hunch. The rest of you crawl beneath a tree. I am going to sneak away."

"The pirate has the best of us, and we don't dare to start a fuss. However, I may fool the man, when night turns into day."

"Good luck," said Goldy, "with your plan. We need some way to fool this man. Right now, we are just his servants, and that doesn't seem just right."

Real soon the Tinies fell asleep. Wee Scouty didn't even peep, but dropped down to his hands and knees and slowly crawled away.

(The pirate gets a surprise in the next story.)

FRANKLIN GROVE

By GRACE PEARL

FRANKLIN GROVE—Archibald and John Maronde are both working regularly in the shoe factory in Dixon, the work having begun the first of the week.

Miss Josephine Wasson spent the week end with her sister, Miss Mildred at Amboy.

Mrs. Wm. Herwig, who has been ill for sometime is growing stronger every day and is now able to go to the table for all of her meals. Mrs. Herwig is well known through this community and her many friends will be glad to learn of her improvement.

Mrs. Guy Wasson was a Rockford visitor Friday afternoon.

Mrs. James Conlon and Mrs. Ruth Kelley and daughter, Miss Josephine were Rockford visitors today, Thursday.

Rev. C. W. Lahman is confined to his home with the malady of mumps.

Herbert Ling, discontinued working for the Ed Hain dairy Saturday. At present he is doing farm work where he can. Herbert is a good worker and always ready to do his part.

Beginning Wednesday the Chicago & Northwestern started the delivery of freight in Ashton by truck from Dixon instead of by way freight as has been the custom for more than three-quarters of a century. Package freight will be delivered every day in the week except Sunday, in the morning, instead of coming in the afternoon as formerly.

Will Trowbridge who has several trucks has been engaged to haul the freight from Dixon to Nachusa and this place, which will make it much more convenient for the merchants.

A petition circulated the first of the week by George L. Spangler, president of the village board, asking for signatures of those favoring the continuance of the street lights from midnight to morning, as it is used to be a few years ago. The petition will be acted upon by the village board at its meeting Monday night. This movement is a good one and we hope the board will vote favorable for it. Where there is plenty of light there is always less likelihood of theft and disorders. Then too, in case of a fire at night, it sure is mighty dark to see to get around. And these days, there are very few lanterns and when you want the flash light the worse is when the batteries are weak. All night lights would be just fine.

Virgil Wasson and Miss Beatrice Hunter, went to Marseilles Thursday afternoon where they attended an opera in the evening, entitled "H. M. S. Pinafore" which was directed by Miss Lola Hunter a sister of Miss Beatrice.

Miss Verna Smith is assisting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Cravens.

Wm. A. Gilton was a week end guest at the home of his daughter, Mrs. L. A. Seelman at Dewitt, Ia. Mr. and Mrs. James Patch were in Sterling Wednesday afternoon where they attended the funeral of Andrew Stanley.

Miss Marie Schmitt was a week end guest at the home of her friend, Miss Winnifred Breunier. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Crawford moved Tuesday into the late Mar-

Miss Cecelia Erickson had a birthday party in honor of her daddy, P. E. Erickson at the home of her friend, Miss Adella Helmershausen, Tuesday afternoon. A nice program was enjoyed with both instrumental and vocal music. Jack Kelley and sisters, Miss Josephine and Maxine sang several songs.

Rev. L. E. Winter gave a short talk. Miss Helmershausen told a very amusing story and also acted as toastmistress.

A lovely birthday cake, candles and flowers were the table decorations. Potted plants and cut flowers were in various places in the room. Lovely refreshments were served.

Those present were Rev. and Mrs. L. E. Winter of Ashton, Henry Helmershausen of Chicago, Mrs. Ruth Kelley and three children, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Erickson and daughter Cecelia, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Lincoln, Miss Flora Wicker and Mrs. Roy Shoemaker.

There are two factors determining the amount of work a person will accomplish; the time spent and the amount of effort. This formula applies either to physical or mental work. One person, through concentration, may accomplish twice as much as another in the same length of time. At this time of the year, it is only natural that a person will want to work outside—not in a school room. However, if everyone is going to be satisfied at the end of school, four weeks hence, with the record of his studies, a great amount of effort and time must be expended. The longer one waits before starting, the more he will have to do in school's last few days.

Friday afternoon, Franklin Grove was defeated in a baseball game at Steward by a score of 5-2. The game was called at the end of the sixth inning when a surprise rain started business on the spectators and players. The game here with Steward should be very interesting.

Work has been started on the second act of the annual senior play. The play, "Oh My Stars!" will be presented soon.

The annual Green River conference track meet will begin on the high school field at 2:15 Tuesday afternoon. If you want to see some exciting races and see some skillful athletes, come around. The meet will be a good one for six schools, all eager for the trophy, are entered. There is no charge for admission, but you can spend your money for candy with the Home Economics class and G. A. A. are going to be on the grounds with plenty of candy.

The Home Economics Club will have a picnic Friday afternoon at Iron Springs.

The Dramatic Club play, Thursday was one of the most entertaining sketches put on by the club this year. The actors all did well.

The mixed chorus of this school will sing in the Paw Paw school on the 9th of May. Later Paw Paw will sing here.

Ives-Breimer Wedding

Relatives received word here on Sunday of the marriage of George S. Ives, Jr., to Miss Roma Breimer. The wedding occurred December 11, 1933, at Abdingdon, Illinois. Rev. Nelson of the Methodist church performing the ceremony. The couple then resumed their customary routine of life, and the event was unsuspected. Mrs. Ives is the youngest of two daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Breimer, south of Dixon, near the St. James church. She is a graduate of the E. Burnham School of Beauty Culture, Chicago. In the year 1933, she was chosen "Miss Illinois" in a beauty contest conducted by life insurance companies of this state. For nearly two years she has been employed in the Farm Bureau office in Amboy and will continue in that work. The groom is the son of George S. Ives of this place. He graduated from the Amboy township high school in 1932, in which city he met his bride. He attended Carthage College, at Carthage, Illinois and has been proprietor of the Soda Grill at this place the past eighteen months. They will reside for the present with his sister, Mrs. Fred Jewett and family in the Raffensbarger residence. A very large circle of friends are extending hearty congratulations.

There are two factors determining the amount of work a person will accomplish; the time spent and the amount of effort. This formula applies either to physical or mental work. One person, through concentration, may accomplish twice as much as another in the same length of time. At this time of the year, it is only natural that a person will want to work outside—not in a school room. However, if everyone is going to be satisfied at the end of school, four weeks hence, with the record of his studies, a great amount of effort and time must be expended. The longer one waits before starting, the more he will have to do in school's last few days.

Friday afternoon, Franklin Grove was defeated in a baseball game at Steward by a score of 5-2. The game was called at the end of the sixth inning when a surprise rain started business on the spectators and players. The game here with Steward should be very interesting.

Work has been started on the second act of the annual senior play. The play, "Oh My Stars!" will be presented soon.

The annual Green River conference track meet will begin on the high school field at 2:15 Tuesday afternoon. If you want to see some exciting races and see some skillful athletes, come around. The meet will be a good one for six schools, all eager for the trophy, are entered. There is no charge for admission, but you can spend your money for candy with the Home Economics class and G. A. A. are going to be on the grounds with plenty of candy.

The Home Economics Club will have a picnic Friday afternoon at Iron Springs.

The Dramatic Club play, Thursday was one of the most entertaining sketches put on by the club this year. The actors all did well.

The mixed chorus of this school will sing in the Paw Paw school on the 9th of May. Later Paw Paw will sing here.

Historic Kentucky Derby Will Be Run Today; Downs Crowd Is 70,000 People

Today Has Slight Mishap; May Hurt His Chances

BULLETIN
Louisville, Ky., May 4.—(AP)—Prospects were for cloudy, cool weather for the sixty-first running of the Kentucky Derby today and a fast track at Churchill Downs.
Derby visitors slept under blankets last night, cooler weather having arrived on the wings of a fresh breeze from the north.
Work has been pushed to get the track in readiness after rains earlier in the week reduced it to mud. Only unexpected showers would undo the work, attendants said.
The scratches left a field of 19 colts and one filly, Nellie Flag, ready to go postward in the Classic. Owners are permitted to withdraw entries until within 45 minutes of post time, expected to be around 4:45 P. M. (CST), today.

By ALAN GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor)
Louisville, Ky., May 4.—(AP)—The storm clouds have rolled by the crowds are rolling in and it's Derby Day again in old Kentucky, with all its fanfare and furor, the headaches and heart-throbs that go to make this event more magnetic to American sports-followers than any other horse race in the land.
By way of giving the form-players a final jolt, it developed overnight that C. V. Whitney's colt Today, the favorite and one of the east's two best bets to turn back the challenge of the crack western filly Nellie Flag, had pulled up with a slight bruise on one hind foot after a last workout.

The mishap to the Derby's 3 to 1 choice, said Trainer Jack Healy, wasn't serious enough to affect the colt's running or damage his chances but it caused quivers in the Whitney camp, long pursued by a Derby "jinx" and put the favorite "on the spot." The previous choice, J. E. Widener's Chance Sun, went lame suddenly and was withdrawn this week.
Surprise Expected
Otherwise, all was outwardly serene in the barns at Churchill Downs and the sixty-first running of the three-year-old classic was "wide open" for a surprise finish. Nellie Flag, the strapping granddaughter of Man O'War, shared the principal public support with the seemingly ill-fated Today. William Woodward's fast-finishing Omaha and Col. E. R. Bradley's candidate for a fifth winner, Boxthorn, but it appeared at least seven horses had a chance to wear the victor's wreath of roses and receive the acclaim of a record-breaking crowd.
An unprecedented outpouring, expected to number close to 70,000 spectators, offered a spectacle in sports following enthusiasm contrasting sharply with the top-hatted, hoop-skirted gathering of barely 10,000 that witnessed the launching of a national institution sixty years ago, when the "little red horse" Aristides won the first Kentucky Derby.

From all parts of the country, the clans have rallied to share the thrills that few great sporting events can match, glimpse the galloping thoroughbreds in a nerve-rattling dash for glory, along with a major "cut" in at least $54,000 in prize money, and participate in the revelry of this year's Derby festival.
Buildup Prolonged
The "buildup" has been prolonged for this year's event but it requires only two minutes and a few split seconds to make horse racing history out of another Derby. For all except the initiated, it's mainly a confusing whirl, the outcome of which is uncertain until the numbers go up on the board. Whether the onlooker has merely two dollars "on the horse" or whether he's a plunger he will have to take his lusting with the crowd and like it.
Whether the multitude hails Nellie Flag as "Queen of the May" and the first filly to triumph in 20 years or whether the fast-stepping equine lass yields to the stretch drive of rival colts, it appeared certain the Derby would enjoy clear weather, together with a fast track, after two days of buffeting storms.
The mile oval at the Downs dried out with astonishing rapidity overnight. Yesterday after being deluged for nearly 24 hours, it was hock deep in mud. A holiday seemed assured for the mud runners but the prospect today was for a good to fast racing trip at Derby post time, barring further downpours.

Can She Come Thru?
Meanwhile the experts, agitated by doubts and torn with conflicting questions, awaited the answer to the main question: "Can Nellie Flag, despite the knowledge handicappers of sex and precedent, whip the cream of the three-year-old crop and become the second filly in 61 years to post her name among the Derby winners?"
She's far and away the best of her sex to appear in the Derby field in years, is Nellie. Around the barns they have been saying she is the racing mare of a generation, the best since Regret won in 1915 and destined not only to win the big prize but go on to capture three year old championship honors. Nellie's big, strong, speedy and—of all things—sassy to the starters. She has already licked many of the colts in the Derby. Her daddy was American Flag, a great son of Man O'War and her dam was Nellie Morse, a Preakness winner. The family's pride is at stake. Nellie will be hard to catch if she breaks "on top."

Nothing could furnish a more dramatic climax than for Nellie Flag to romp home in front but it is the calm, considered judgment of the handicappers that she doesn't figure to beat either Today, if the Whitney hope proved sound, or Omaha, chestnut son of the 1930 Derby winner, Gallant Fox. Omaha has what it takes in the stretch.
All Have Chance
Bradley's Boxthorn, Mrs. Payne Whitney's Plat Eye and Mrs. Walter M. Jefford's Commonwealth, a gelding, all figure to have winning chances. There's also considerable backing for Mrs. Isabel Dodge Sloane's Psychic Bid, W. S. Kilmer's Sun Fairplay, and Roman Soldier, the Texas Derby winner and entry of Sachsenmaier and Reuter.
The rest of the Derby list has been grouped in the mutual field, including Whiskole and St. Bernard, two favorites of the long-shot players. Twenty-two thoroughbreds have post positions but four or five appeared likely to be scratched. The big race is No. 6 on the day's program, which starts at 1 P. M.

MEXICO DAVIS CUP TEAM WINS FIRST SERIES
Despite Cripples for Mexico, Cuba Is Loser

Mexico, D. F., May 4.—(AP)—Mexico's crippled Davis Cup tennis team apparently has clinched its first round American zone series with Cuba. Despite the illness which deprived the team of the services of its captain, Dr. Ricardo Tapia, the Mexicans made a clean sweep of the opening singles matches yesterday.
Esteban Reyes easily whipped Arturo Randin in the opening match, 6-2, 6-0, 6-3, but Daniel Hernandez, 18-year-old Mexican school boy star had to come from behind to down Lorenzo Nodarse in five sets, 5-7, 6-3, 4-6, 8-6, 6-2. Hernandez, subbing for Dr. Tapia, was extremely nervous at the outset of his match with Nodarse, but played brilliantly in the last two sets.
Victory in doubles today automatically would advance Mexico to the final round of American zone competition.

DIXON NINES MEET STRONG OPPOSITION

Games Scheduled for Sunday if Weather is Favorable

Barring a continuation of disagreeable weather, Dixon's three baseball teams will take the field again today and tomorrow.

The Dixon Independents, sponsored by Ora Stevens, Airport Grill proprietor, will entertain their second rival of the spring Sunday on the Airport diamond. The opposing team will be the Amboy outsting, considered one of the strongest nine in north central Illinois. Miller and Carlson are expected to share mound duty for the locals and Watts will probably catch. Last Sunday the Independents got off to an auspicious start by blanking the Rockford National Alliance team 3 to 0, limiting the Poles to three scattered hits.

Dodgers Play West Brooklyn
West Brooklyn will play host to the Dixon Dodgers Sunday afternoon. The West Brooklynites are reported as having a speedy nine and should offer the Dodgers their best competition of the year. The locals are still undefeated, having downed the East Enders 5 to 4, the Lee Center nine 8 to 7, and the Nelson Cardinals 10 to 7. In their versatile lineup are T. Hasselberg, third base; Underwood, center field; Hilliker, shortstop; K. Hasselberg, second base; Flanagan, first base; Johnson, right field; Cruthoff, right field; Randall, left field; Watts, catcher; and Henry, pitcher.

The Dixon State Hospital team will play an unannounced rival today. It was not learned last evening who had been booked for the weekly game. The Hospital team is supported by Windmill in the box and Mansfield behind the plate. Other men in the lineup are Doty, third; Wilamowski, short; Pullen, first; Kessinger, pitcher or centerfielder; Fitzpatrick, centerfielder; Allen, second; Williams and Smith, left fielders; Hubbard and Redman, right fielders.

DODGERS' NEED IS BETTER BOX WORK SAYS BOSS

Rain Halted All But 2 Games in Major Leagues Yesterday

Casey Stengel, who lacks much of the professional optimism of a base ball manager, admits that his Dodgers need a lot more good pitching than they now have if they are going places in the National League this season. But considering their limitations, they have done pretty well so far, leading at one time and now holding firmly to second place.
Even if they don't stay up there the Dodgers seem sure to make lots of trouble for the other clubs when Van Lingle Mungo is on the mound. So far this spring the mighty right hander has gone the full route five times, winning three games and losing two. Watson Clark has been the only other consistent member of the Brooklyn flinging corps, chalking up three straight victories in his comeback effort.

Mungo had his troubles yesterday as the Dodgers ran into the Pittsburgh Pirates at the start of the western invasion of the league's eastern sector, but he came through impressively. Not only did the big South Carolinian outpitch the ever bigger Jim Weaver, but he took matters into his own hands to drive in the winning run. The score was 2 to 1.

Despite the victory the Dodgers couldn't gain an inch on the pace-setting Giants, who wallowed Cincinnati 9 to 2 in the only other major league game. With Carl Hubbell hurling a six hit game, the might have been even better for a shower in the final inning the Giants cut loose with a 16-barrage against Bennie Frey, D. Brennan and LeRoy Herrman the brought an easy victory.

Rain and cold weather wiped out the remaining National League games and the full American League schedule.

PACE SETTERS VIEWING NEW BAT LEADERS

Hogan Rises From Eighth Place Near To Top

New York, May 4.—(AP)—Two new leaders stood at the top of the major league batting lists today while the pace setters of a week ago looked up from somewhat lower levels. But the clouting of Frank (Shany) Hogan of the Boston Braves and Rollie Hemsley of the St. Louis Browns weren't the only outstanding hitting features of the past week.

Hogan, eighth in the National league last week, cracked six hits in ten times up and lifted his average 80 points to .448 to capture the lead formerly held by Burgess Whitehead of St. Louis. Hemsley, not even rated as "a regular" when the previous list was made up, came through often enough to get in at the top of the American league at .390.

Other high spots were the continued clouting of Floyd (Arky) Vaughan of Pittsburgh, second National league hitter, who hit ten times in 20 attempts to hoist his mark to .446; the rise of the New York Giants' sluggers in the senior loop and of the Athletics' aces in the American league. Three Giants, Mel Ott, Hank Leiber and Bill Terry moved up to join Mark Koenig in the first ten. Jimmie Foss and Bob Johnson of the A's, gaining ten and 44 points respectively during the week, slid behind Hemsley with averages of .388 and .386.

CLEANER CITY DEMAND UNDER NEW ORDINANCE

Carelessness in Hauling Refuse, Paper, Ashes Unlawful

The members of the city council at their meeting last evening adopted a new ordinance which was drafted for the purpose of keeping the streets and alleys cleaner. Commissioner Joe E. Vaile sponsored the measure which provides that all trucks, wagons or other vehicles used in the hauling or transporting of ashes, waste paper, garbage or other materials, be so constructed and equipped to prevent littering streets and alleys. The ordinance provides for tight boxes on trucks hauling sand, gravel, dirt or similar materials. Vehicles hauling paper, ashes and garbage must be covered. Violations are punishable by a fine ranging from $3 to $50 and the ordinance, being an emergency measure, is effective at once.

Commissioner Cal F. Tyler, explaining the measure, said:

Police Cooperate
"This ordinance represents cooperation between the public health and safety and the street departments, both of which are seeking to keep papers and refuse off the streets and alleys of the city. Commissioner Vaile has reported that such offenses are the cause of the blocking of sewers. We have a beautiful city of which all should feel proud. It is only good judgment that the citizens keep waste paper and rubbish off the streets and in the adoption of this ordinance, I wish to assure the members of the council that its provisions will be enforced to the limit beginning at once."

The council voted the adoption of an amendment to the present Dixon Municipal band ordinance, which was presented by Mayor W. V. Slothower, which set the salary of the director of that organization at $100 per month.

Liquor Commission
The mayor appointed Commissioners Taylor and Clyde H. Lenox to serve with him as members of the city liquor commission.

A request for an appropriation of $500 for the Dixon public hospital, also known as the Katherine Shaw Betha hospital, was presented to the council, the members voting unanimously in favor of the appropriation. The communication stated that the sum appropriated in 1934 was used entirely in the care of charity cases coming into the hospital.

Claims amounting to $390 were ordered paid by the council.

DAILY HEALTH

WHAT'S WHAT ON THE COMMON COLD

Now that the common cold season is over and passionate partisanship for this or that method of treating a cold has no immediate reasons for its provocation, a review of what is what on the common cold emanating from the department of medicine of Johns Hopkins should be more than welcome. Here is the quintessence of the review:

There is no specific remedy for the treatment of colds.

The rational treatment of this malady consists in getting the sufferer to bed at the outset of the infection and keeping him there for two or three days.

Diet has little effect in the treatment of colds, but it is wise to force fluids moderately, that is, encourage the sufferer to drink freely.

If constipation exists, a mild laxative is of value. An enema makes a good substitute.

Treatment then should be directed to whatever particular complaint or complication the patient suffers.

By following this regimen the duration of the infection can be shortened and complications can be averted and further spread of the infection to well persons is avoided.

As to prevention: so-called hardening exercises, vitamin feeding, ultraviolet light and vaccines, though popular with the public, do not appear to be appreciably effective as preventives against colds.

Bacterial vaccines no longer receive the enthusiastic support given to them by their early proponents. They appear to have little influence on the incidence of infections, etc.

One valuable feature is the avoidance of contact with infected individuals. This, perhaps, is the best of all preventives.

STUDENT CITY COUNCIL TOOK OATHS FRIDAY

Will Vote on Daylight Saving Time Ordinance This Eve

The city council chambers were crowded to capacity last evening for the inauguration of the high school students as various officers. Commissioner Catherine Buchner sponsored a movement which met with most popular favor in the draft of an ordinance which is to be acted upon at the closing session of the council this evening.

The measure provides that the city of Dixon adopt daylight savings time, to become effective June 1 and continuing until October 1. A fine of from $10 to $200 is provided in the ordinance for any firm or corporation who fails to permit its employees or agents to enjoy the extra hour during the summer months. No action was taken, the ordinance having been filed for discussion this evening.

Commissioner Linn Habecker presented the other ordinance which created the board of local improvements consisting of Mayor Rita Tofte, William Flanagan of the department of streets and Eugene Gronewald of the department of accounts and finances.

Mayor Graceful The elected students were escorted to their respective desks where the badges of their offices were presented by the mayor and commissioners. Miss Tofte presided with grace and firmness as she wielded the gavel as acting mayor of the city. On each side of her desk were beautiful large bouquets of flowers.

With the seating of the council, Mayor William V. Slothower administered the oath of office to his acting mayor, and said:

LENA BUTLER, Executrix. H. C. Warner, Atty. April 20-27-May 4

"Mayor Tofte, you have been chosen by the students of the Dixon public high school to be the chief executive of their city council. You should feel highly honored as it is proof of your popularity as a lady and student and of their confidence in your ability. We believe that this movement, which was inaugurated some few years ago will result in much good to the community if given due consideration by the student body.

"In a few short years most of you will be legal voters. Now, more than ever, it is necessary that the electorate take active and thoughtful interest in the selection of officials who are to govern them. As it appears all too true that in many localities, professional politicians hold the whip hand and have more consideration for the benefit of selfish minorities and the perpetuation of themselves in power, than for the greatest good to the greatest number.

Outlaw Depredations

"Your council and fellow students now can be of much service to the city and save it considerable expense if they will outlaw depredations on property at all times, especially on Hallowe'en. No one objects to harmless pranks on such occasions but destruction of property is wanton and represents loss of hours of labor performed by someone. You can be of material assistance in aiding to keep litter from the streets and by observing the traffic and parking regulations, aid in decreasing automobile accidents. We ask your cooperation in these matters. Should good results be shown from endeavors such as these, we know that your instructors and the city officials will feel well repaid for the time and energy expended in the preparation and production of the program of this evening and that to follow tomorrow. I now present you the badge of your office and the gavel, the emblem of authority. Use it firmly, but judiciously; honestly, but impartially; remembering while you have been elevated above your fellows officially, that it was they who elevated you."

Mayor Tofte proceeded with the program of the evening which consisted largely of the induction into office of the various officials. She responded to Mayor Slothower's talk in a most clever manner. The following officials being sworn in and taking their offices:

BEGIN HERE TODAY

MILICENT GRAYES, secretary to GEORGE DRINGOLD, finds her employer in his office dead. JARVIS HAPF, a stranger, offers to help her. He sends her to a beauty shop where she is transformed into a beauty, then takes her home, introducing her as his secretary. She meets HAPF's son, NORMAN, his stepmother, ROSEMARY, and his sister, HAPF, DICK GENTRY, HAPF's partner, VERA DUCHENE, Mrs. HAPF's maid.

In HAPF's home Millicent sees the mysterious "woman in black" whom she believes has some connection with Dringold's death.

The chauffeur is found dead. Later HAPF is kidnapped. Millicent and Norman learn the car driven by the woman in black belongs to PHYLLIS FAULCONER. They go to her apartment. Norman enters first. When he does not return Millicent follows. The place is in wild disorder and Norman is not in sight. Millicent goes to a nearby garage, asks to see PHYLLIS FAULCONER's car and goes to the second floor. Someone grabs her from behind. She is OBJECTIVE DICHANAN. He opens her purse, finds the note written by Bob Caine, and connects her with being PHYLLIS FAULCONER.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XLV BUCHANAN said, "That clinches it. You're Phyllis Faulconer. That note was written by Bob Caine. Sergeant Mahoney put me 10 bucks that when we got Phyllis Faulconer I'd find that Bob Caine had tipped her off about the car. That's why he sent me to wait for it. Come on, you're going to headquarters and get booked."

"But you don't understand," she said. "That note wasn't left for me. That was . . ."

"Oh baloney!" he said. "I've heard enough of your alibis. You come with me. You can tell your troubles to Sergeant Mahoney."

"Thank heavens!" she said. "I can at least talk with some one who's got intelligence."

"Go on, smarty, make all your wise cracks," he said, opening the door of the automobile and pulling her by the handcuffed wrists. "You may think I'm dumb but I had sense enough to trap you and trap you right."

She recognized the futility of further argument and braced herself to be led down the stairs. Once more she saw the pitying glance of the uniformed attendant of the garage and now she understood its complete significance. He had known that a police detective was waiting to arrest whoever showed up to take out that Faulconer sedan, and he had known she was walking into a trap when she climbed the stairs.

She felt her cheeks burn with humiliation as she was led handcuffed, in charge of the officer, across the lighted lower floor.

"Well," Buchanan said triumphantly, "I got her."

"Do you need those handcuffs?" the garage man asked.

Buchanan flashed him a belittling glance.

"I'll say I do. She's wanted for murder."

The garage attendant stuck by his guns.

"You're about a 100-pounds heavier than she is," he remarked. "If she hasn't got a gun you should be able to handle her without handcuffs."

"You don't need to tell me how to do my job," Buchanan remarked. "All I want you to do is to show me where the telephone is and then keep quiet."

The attendant jerked his head toward the office. Buchanan took Millicent into the office, hooked his foot around the leg of a chair, jerked it a few inches toward Millicent and said, "Sit down there and rest yourself. Don't try to make a break."

He picked up the telephone said, "Police headquarters," and then, after a moment said, "Homicide Department . . . is Sergeant Mahoney there? Well, let me talk with Ramsey . . . Hello, Ramsey, this is Buchanan. I got the Faulconer Jane . . . Yes, she's sitting right here at the Savoy garage. Where's Mahoney?"

The receiver made a long series of squawking noises, and Buchanan said, "Well, see if you can get Mahoney and tell Johansen to come around here. It's just a couple of blocks . . . Yes, sure, he's off duty, but he mixed into it and he might as well see it through. Tell him it's big stuff and he may get his name in a newspaper. Only shoot him along."

BUCHANAN hung up the telephone.

"And now," Millicent asked, "do we start for headquarters?"

"Not yet, sister."

He tilted back in the chair, put his feet up on the desk pulled a black cigar from his pocket, clipped off the end, inspected it, wrapped his lips around it, scratched a match on the sole of his shoe and concentrated his attention upon lighting the cigar. When he had it burning to suit him he puffed out clouds of smoke, his manner that of one who is very well pleased with himself.

"Well," Millicent demanded impatiently, "what are we waiting for? I want to talk with someone who has some authority."

"Sister," he told her, "I've got all the authority you need to bother about."

"I mean," she said, "someone who has sense as well as authority."

"I had sense enough to outsmart you," he told her.

She ignored the comment.

After a few moments she demanded again, "Well, what are we waiting for?"

"That," he said, "is one of the things you might like to know, but you're pretty smart and you'll know what I want to tell you and nothing else."

"I demand," she said, "to be taken to headquarters. I happen to know that you've got to take me before a magistrate when you arrest me."

"So," he said, "you've got a criminal record, have you?"

"No, I haven't a criminal record. I've got work to do and I demand an opportunity to vindicate myself."

"Don't worry. You're going to get that, I promise. If you're on the up and up we'll know it in a very few minutes."

"How?"

"WE'VE got someone coming who can identify the real Phyllis Faulconer. I won't take your word one way or another. I'm betting you're Phyllis Faulconer, but just the same I'm going to give you all the breaks."

"Oh," she said, "if you'd only do that! If you'd only have someone from the apartment house who knows the real Phyllis Faulconer it would save you the humiliation of making a false arrest and save me a lot of time."

"Okay, sister," he agreed good-naturedly, puffing smoke at the ceiling. "I've got a chap by the name of Johansen coming around here. He knows the real Phyllis Faulconer and I know him. He's a square-shooter, but he's hard-boiled and you can't slip anything over on him. Here he comes now."

Millicent heard the pound of heavy steps. She already anticipated the vindication that was to be hers. She turned a smiling face, and then the smile froze on her lips and panic filled her eyes.

"Hello, Johansen," said Buchanan.

The man who pushed his way through the glass paneled doorway nodded a greeting and then shifted his eyes to Millicent.

He was the officer who had knocked on the door of the apartment and complained to Millicent about the excessive noise—the man who had blown the police whistle when she fled from the apartment!

DIXON BRANCH OF AIR GROUP FORMED HERE

National Aeronautic Association Is Main Body

A Dixon committee of the National Aeronautic Association has been formed to aid the association and build up local aviation with twelve purposes in view.

The committee is composed of Ement Schuler, George B. Shaw, Dr. Z. W. Moss, Robert Sterling and Linchett Schnell; Schuler has also received an invitation from the Aviation Committee of the Illinois Chamber of Commerce to serve as a member of that board.

It has become more and more apparent that aviation will wield a tremendous influence on the national life both from standpoints of commerce and national defense. Inasmuch as Mr. Schuler was instrumental in supervising the construction of Dixon's unique hangar, and is chairman of the airport committee, the invitation to serve on the state Chamber of Commerce body was most fitting.

The twelve purposes of the Dixon committee are:

1. To assist the National Aeronautic Association in a national program for public education in the science and art of aeronautics.

2. To serve as a clearing house for ideas and information regarding aviation.

3. To distribute publicity material and adapt the same, when necessary, to local conditions.

4. To coordinate volunteer efforts in support of aeronautics.

5. To assist and cooperate with clubs and civic organizations, in their aviation divisions and meetings and to furnish speakers when requested.

6. To cooperate with schools and colleges in obtaining and popularizing courses of study in aeronautics.

7. To arrange for local radio programs and provide various existing channels with publicity material.

8. To cooperate with visiting important figures in aviation.

9. To receive and forward membership applications to N. A. A.

10. To initiate or assist in local contests and other aviation events and to cooperate when necessary in national events.

11. To initiate or assist in carrying out plans for proper air marking of towns, airport improvement and to lend encouragement to local flying activities.

12. To stimulate and to serve the aviation interest of the youth of the city by cooperation with the

AIR CONDITIONED REFRIGERATORS

1. Temperature

Any refrigerator will furnish temperature.

2. Moisture

Ice refrigeration alone keeps your food moist eliminating loss of flavor by drying out. Closing the food up in containers eliminates ventilation making a bad matter worse.

3. Ventilation

Ice refrigerators keep your food from odor-tainting. The constantly circulating odor-laden air from your food is cleansed by the moist surface of the ice, cleaning and sweetening the whole interior of the refrigerator.

The amount and character of these odors and gases given off are clearly shown as the slime that accumulates in the ice refrigerator drain, or when defrosting an electric refrigerator.

Come in and let us explain these well known facts to you personally; we will do so cheerfully. If it is not convenient for you to call at the office we will call for you and return you to your home without obligation to you.

THE DIXON THEATRE

Has Just Completed the Installation of the Most Up-to-date Type of Projection Room Equipment.

THE NEW "MAGNAR C ARC LAMPS"

Perfection of 7 Years of Research by General Electric Engineers.

These lamps reproduce the scenes taken in the studio under the same exact quality of light as was used at the studio when the film was photographed, giving the effect of distance, and brings out much greater clarity to the picture.

Our projection booth is today comparable to the projection booth of any theatre in the world regardless of location or size.
